

Details of Eligibility criteria, Job description and Responsibility as Advertised for the Post of Director General, National Maritime Heritage Complex (NMHC), Lothal.

National Maritime Heritage Complex Background

Lothal is one of the most prominent cities of the ancient Indus valley civilization, located in the Bhal region of the modern state of Gujarat and dating from 3700 BC. Lothal, where world's oldest man made dockyard which is over 4600 years old, is located, is an attractive location for setting up of a maritime heritage complex. Such a complex will benefit the history, archaeological importance and International renown of Lothal as a place of extraordinary and unparalleled maritime heritage of India.

It is proposed that to showcase and to preserve India's rich and diverse Maritime Heritage, a museum along with a heritage complex will be built at Lothal or at sites associated with Lothal. This museum will specialize in the display of objects relating to ships and travel on large bodies of water. It also intends to highlight the ancient shipbuilding and navigational technologies towards which India contributed handsomely.
